Mrs. Ogonis
Thanks for being there when I needed
advice about colleges.
I hope to see you next year.
You're the greatest and a true friend. Good luck in the future.
Thank you

Dad hasn't buried the 10 grand yet!

Mrs. Ogonis,
Thanks for all your advice and for being there when I needed someone to talk to, also for not giving in to what I wanted but trying to help me learn, even when I persisted. I know that want you to know that I did learn. Thanks again, you are a terrific counselor! And an even better friend! Good luck Always!

Love,

Mrs O'Gonis

What can I say? You're a super lady and counselor!
I'd just like to thank you for all of the times that that you were there when I needed to talk. You've really help me with choosing my college and how to go about getting financial aid. Also, I'd like to thank you for the help that you gave the Jarnourcy family when Lisa was having some problems.
Her family means alot to me and I don't want to see them hurt. Have fun at EHS and I'll come to visit when I'm home from college!

Love,

When we came to Enfield High School as freshmen, we had no idea of how much the school had to offer us. After four years of memorable times, we leave Enfield High School as young adults with strong and positive experiences behind us. We all had our own special place these past four years, and Enfield High School was a very special place. Enfield High School was a time in our lives which can never be relived — except through our memories . . .

A Very Special Place

The class of 1986 takes great pride in dedicating the 1986 Echo to Mr. Robert Campbell. He has gone beyond his job of teaching English and has helped our class in so very many ways. As our class advisor he was always willing to lend a hand whenever asked. As a teacher he has helped each of us to grow and think as individuals. He has been there as a support to us during our years at Enfield High School. He has not only been our teacher and advisor but he has been our friend. We are truly grateful to this fine individual.

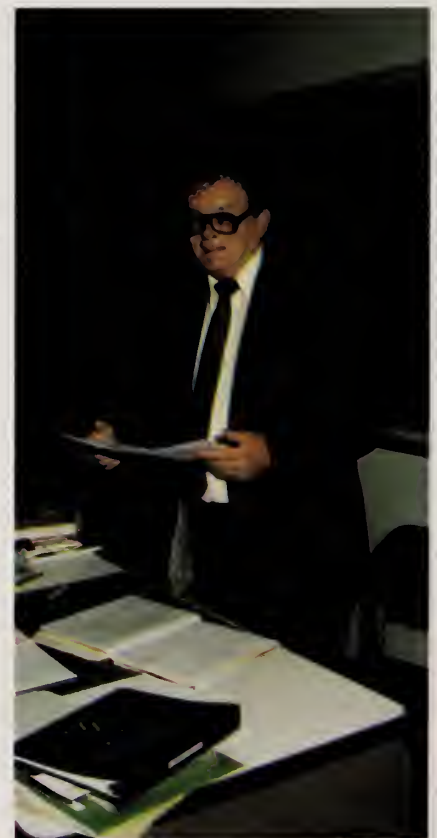

Thank you, Mr. Campbell
The Class of 1986

To the Class of "86"

May the good times you've shared in Enfield High School be remembered forever while your frustrations wane with the years. May your future be filled with loving relationships and the knowledge that you'll always be missed. May you confront your daily challenges with endurance and the ensuing years with grace.

Robert J. Campbell

Each one of us needs a special place, a place we can call our own, a place to relax and to take in life. Enfield High School is one of those special places. Its classrooms and halls have served as meeting places and have been settings for special times. People's State Forest is another special place. It is not important whether we go there with a group or just a few friends; People's Forest still holds precious moments to remember.

On August 24, 1985, a group of seniors traveled the thirty miles to Barkhamsted for a picnic and then on to John's River Ride. Members of the class of 1986 tubed down the Farmington River, laughing, fearing, but most of all, becoming close friends. Echo 1986, a yearbook of memories and special times, opens with pictures taken last summer at the senior outing and photographs taken during the first week of school. These pictures are just the beginning of a year filled with precious memories and special places for the entire graduating class of 1986.

We, the graduating class officers, would like to express our pleasure in representing this year's seniors. We were known as a "split class," but through this past summer and school year we have come together. We would like to say that we have learned, lived, and grown with the Class of 1986.

Administration

Dear Class of 1986

I recall back in 1982 when I first met with you as a freshman class, telling you that the next four years would pass by rapidly. At that time, most of you reacted with facial expressions of disbelief. Well, here you are in June 1986 and soon to be graduated. How quickly the years pass. How precious the gift of time.

Graduation is an emotional time for all concerned. For the faculty and administration it's a time to say good-bye to a class and to individuals who have provided the true satisfaction derived as an educator, that of being part of your young lives. For you, the time has come to bid farewell to the many acquaintances you are accustomed to seeing every day. This, however, does not mean that you are severing all relationships forever. Instead, you will find that many of your classmates will be cherished friends for life — a bonus obtained from acquiring an education.

On behalf of the board of education, faculty, and administration I congratulate you for your accomplishments and wish you continued success as you enter a new and exciting phase of your life. We hope that your four years at Enfield High School were as rewarding for you as they were for us. The class of 1986 will be missed.

Sincerely,

Leo J. Yaconello

Mr. Leo Yaconello

Mr. Stephen Gregorski

Mr. Daniel Michael

Mr. Robert Johnson

Now that graduation is approaching it is hard to believe how quickly the last four years have gone by. I hope your days at E.H.S. have been enjoyable as well as filled with learning and growth. I wish you all health, happiness and success throughout your lives.

Best of luck to all the seniors. We will miss you.

As you leave high school, you enter a new phase of your life with new beginnings. Take the knowledge, confidence, and experience you have gained in high school and apply it in all your endeavors.

Library

Mrs. Marie McGarry
Librarian

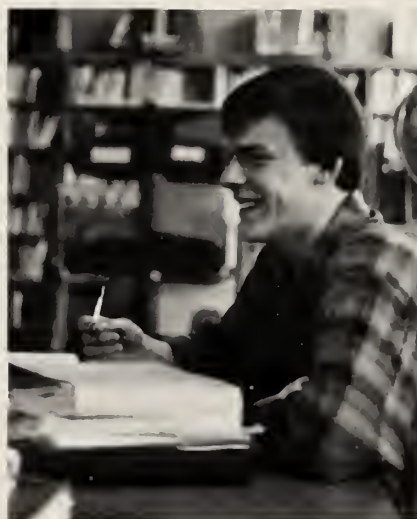

The library contains a variety of resources on all of the subjects in the curriculum. The reading interests of young people are well represented by the many paperback novels and the numerous books on sports, hobbies, and careers which are in great demand.

Mrs. Charlotte Bielski

Mrs. Mary Barnes

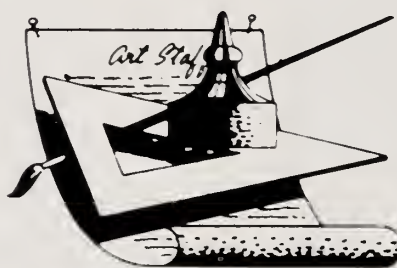

Art

Mr. Newell Murri

Mrs. Barbara Kemnitzer

This was a dynamic year in the Art Department. The students were provided with the opportunities to acquire basic skills as well as difficult concepts. This enabled all individuals to exercise their creative abilities. Student art work was continually on exhibit throughout the building for the pleasure of the entire student body and staff. This has been a good year for field trips and guest speakers as well.

We know that this year, filled with change and challenge, has helped the students of Enfield High School to grow and develop their self-expression. We will miss all of you who are leaving us and hope you will carry fond memories of our Art Department.

Music

Mr. Leonard DeMaio

Mrs. Tracy Carne

Under the direction of Mrs. Tracy Carne, the instrumental music department offers a wide variety of performing opportunities. Courses include Marching Band, Jazz Ensemble, Concert Band, and several small chamber ensembles. These groups perform throughout the school year and have represented our town and school in and out of Connecticut.

The classroom curriculum is aimed at accommodating different kinds of students: the general student, who may include the History of Electronic Music in his studies and the college bound, liberal arts and elementary education majors, who would study music theory and composition under the capable guidance of Mr. Leonard DeMaio.

Mr. Rocco Autorino, an accomplished vocalist in his own right, is in the director's chair when our mixed and select choruses take to the risers for a performance. The vocal class, which he conducts, helps the student gain confidence in other solo work, improve other vocal techniques, and realize the potential of his or her own voice.

The Guidance Department, in concert with the other departments at Enfield High School, stresses the acquisition of skills and the development of habits concerning self analysis, decision making, and perspective analysis planning. The main goal is to guide the students in examining their abilities, capabilities, interests, attitudes, habits, and volitions.

There is a specific focus on students' approach to life and a life of learning through job career and college identification. Expansive resources are available for the students in these areas.

Miss Rose Porcello

Mr. Richard Sunter

Mr. Michael Stasack

Mrs. Donna Piela

The Business Department offers a variety of challenging courses that develop business skills, socio-economic understanding, exposure to current business trends to meet standards encountered in the office scene, and it encourages advanced studies beyond the high school level.

Mrs. Carol Radziewicz

Family Living

Mrs. Margaret Fitzgerald

Mrs. Christine MacDonald
Department Chairperson

Mrs. Laurie Gorski

Regardless of ethnic and economic backgrounds, we all share certain commonalities; we are all part of a family, and we are all consumers. However, many individuals do not have an opportunity to understand or develop the skills necessary to deal with problems related to self, family, and society in general. The Department of Family Living and Consumer Education focuses upon the individual and seeks to develop self-awareness through a variety of courses dealing with many aspects of our personal and social lives.

Foreign Language

Mr. Raymond Montagna

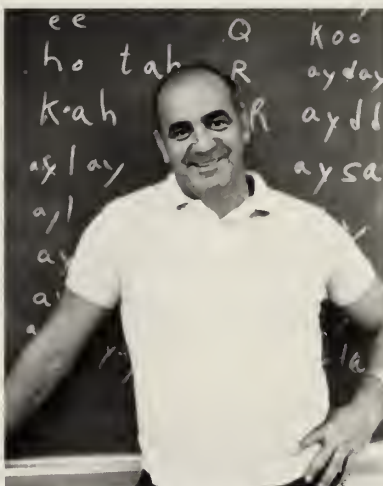

Mrs. Sandra Brassard
Department Chairperson

Mrs. Denise Thompson

Ms. Donna Lyons

Mr. Paul Lucius

Mrs. Susan Bristol

The Foreign Language Department at EHS has continually encouraged students to study a foreign language not only to extend their knowledge of other cultures, but also to improve their potential in the world. In addition, the Foreign Language Department feels that learning other languages helps one understand and use his or her own language more accurately and effectively.

French, German, and Spanish are taught in an approach that is audio-visual with emphasis on the sounds of grammar patterns of the spoken language. Latin is also presented in a dynamic manner with audio-visual materials that help the student to develop a better cultural understanding of classical antiquity and its implications in the present.

Mr. Kenneth St. George

As a result of the increasing number of students electing to take science offerings and because of the continually increasing importance of science in today's technological world, the Science Department of Enfield High School continues to emphasize and offer its established, multi-leveled and multi-purpose curriculum.

We, the staff of the Science Department at Enfield High School, offer our congratulations and best wishes to this year's graduating class.

Social Science

Mr. Edward Boland

Dr. Richard Celio

The 1984-85 school year was one of continual attempts to provide avenues for self-realization and self-fulfillment to students in social science classes. The social science curriculum has been designed so that students may make choices, identify and understand the complexities of modern existence, connect meaningfully with their society, and formulate responsible value systems for life in a diverse world.

In an attempt to meet the changing needs and interests of students, the Physical Education Department offers a wide variety of activities. These activities include many individual and team sports. Ninth and tenth grade students participate in a structured physical education program which includes team and individual sports. This prepares them for a more skilled selection of activities as juniors and seniors. Juniors and seniors are required to take physical education and also have an opportunity to select from a wide range of activities.

DECA

Distribution Education Clubs of America (DECA) is designed specifically for students enrolled in Marketing Education. The basic goals of DECA are incorporated in the four points of the DECA diamond: Vocational Understanding, Civic Consciousness, Social Intelligence, and Leadership Development. DECA offers workshops, seminars, and publications, which contribute substantially to the development of required competencies and motivate students to assume responsibility for personal leadership.

Fiddler On the Roof was presented on February 28 and March 1, 1986. The popular musical, set in 1905 in a Russian village, chronicles the family problems of Tevye, (David Callan), a poor dairy man and his wife Golde, (Christine St. Amant), and their five daughters, who are rebelling against the Jewish traditions their father holds dear. The musical featured such Broadway classics as "If I Were a Rich Man" and "Sunrise, Sunset."

The 1986 yearbook staff says goodbye to their "special" place, room 316. In room 316 we battled deadlines, croppers, cameras and misspelled names. We learned how to keep our senses of humor, work with 35mm cameras, raise funds, and procrastinate.

We have worked on each page hoping the book would finally come together. We hope our efforts are appreciated by all of the students in the class of 1986.

CONVENIENCE STORES

"News is the first rough draft of history."

In their thirst for national reputation, some newspapers have grown indifferent to hometown events. They think only in terms of big national and international stories. Yet if it affects you, any story can be a big story.

—Ben Bradlee
Editor, Washington Post

The Journal Inquirer believes local news is big news. In each of the towns it serves, the Journal Inquirer reports local news with the depth and commitment other newspapers reserve for the "big" events. The JI seeks not only to watch town and state government, but to hold them accountable.

If people are to control their own destinies, they must know what's happening in their own towns as well as in the nation and the world. That's why the history being made right around the corner is the main business of the Journal Inquirer.

The JI tells it like it is. Somebody has to.

Millers Falls, Massachusetts 01349

Before you earn your degree, you could earn the money to pay for it. By joining the CT Army National Guard today. The Connecticut Army National Guard has college financial aid programs that can help you pay for upcoming expenses like tuition, books and lab fees. The programs are open to men and women who meet specified requirements at the time of enlistment.

Here are the highlights:

TUITION WAIVER

A Connecticut state law waiving tuition for Guard members can mean big savings for students. Students enrolled at any of our state community colleges, state technical colleges, state universities, or the University of Connecticut, are not required to pay tuition fees if they are members of the Connecticut Army National Guard.

NEW GI BILL

The "New GI Bill" for Army National Guard members will provide you with over $5000 in tax-free tuition assistance, with monthly allotments over a 36 month period, while you attend an institution of higher learning. When we qualify you to enlist in one of our exciting and challenging Army National Guard positions, we'll sign you up for the "New GI Bill."

THE ENLISTMENT BONUS PROGRAM

$2000 in cold hard cash. We'll pay you $2000 cash over the first four years of your enlistment period.

STUDENT LOAN REPAYMENT PROGRAM

$500 or 15% pay-off on your outstanding student loans. The Student Loan Repayment Program can repay your outstanding federal student loans at the rate of 15% or $500, whichever is greater, for each year of service in the National Guard.

The Connecticut Army National Guard Announces . . .

Raymond E. Cloutier 1925-1985

Raymond E. Cloutier was a dedicated husband, father, grandfather, educator, and counselor. During his lifetime he gained experience in numerous occupations, but his first love was education. He worked his way through college attending the University of New Hampshire and the University of Illinois where he earned his BA degree majoring in French and English with minors in Spanish, science, and psychology. He became jack of all trades and master of many, from machinist, court stenographer, cook, radio-tv repairman, summer theater manager, caretaker, substitute teacher, high school teacher of French and English to college teacher of psychology. Ray served our country as a member of the infantry in the Asiatic-Pacific Theater during World War II.

In 1955 Ray became a guidance counselor in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, and worked toward his masters degree in education at Boston University. After serving as guidance director in Danbury High School, he became Director of Pupil Personnel in Litchfield, Connecticut. He also served as a consultant and as head of the language department in addition to his other duties. In 1972 Ray became the new career education counselor at Enfield High School. He was later to serve as department chairman for many years.

Ray was a counselor's counselor who responded with advice and caring were you to ask about a college or how to handle a complex situation. Ray was at ease when encouraging a student with no immediate direction as well as the articulate, well-educated young person going on to a competitive school. He had a wealth and depth of knowledge gained from experience, and his natural thirst for learning was astounding. He had a logical and inquisitive mind. Those who knew Ray well were privileged and will miss his subtle sense of humor, his compassionate caring ways, and the quiet stability of his presence.

Ray was a gentle, dynamic man who kept his personal troubles to himself, while helping others to cope with their problems. He was religious in an orthodox yet universal way, for he spoke only of the positive side of life and always shied away from the glory he deserved.

Ray will be remembered by those of us who knew him as a truly gentle man — his legacy of caring and giving has helped us all.

Edward J. Boland 1938-1985

Edward J. Boland was taken from us at the height of his powers. According to the cliché, there are no indispensable people. For those of us who knew and loved Eddie, a crater yawns in front of our lives which seems impossible to fill.

Eddie Boland was a scholar and natural leader. He had an absolute genius for friendship. He was the most loving man I've ever known. Eddie Boland loved to laugh. His good humor attracted people like a magnet. He loved good conversation and the quick retort. His humor was clean, sharp, and frequently a weapon against small-mindedness, bigotry, hypocrisy, or cruelty. He loved his profession and waged an unceasing battle to force it to live up to its own ideals.

He knew ways to nurture creativity . . . to promote maximum learning . . . to persevere despite a wall of obstacles . . . to focus effort where it was most needed . . . to adapt learning to shifting circumstances . . . to avoid the flashy bandwagons and cling to successful programs and to support teachers and students to work more efficiently without being aware of his guidance and support.

He was a human dynamo solving all the problems, soothing all the egos, mending all the breaks, dreaming of new ways to make Enfield a better place to work, to learn, and to live. He had meetings in the morning before most people were awake and continued working till late at night. We marveled at his endurance and accomplishments. The constant question was always, "How does Eddie do it?"

Eddie Boland celebrated St. Patrick's Day for most of March. He loved his Irish heritage and was a devoted scholar of heroes and poets, martyrs and patriots. He loved Irish music and could find the Celtic station on any radio. With his family he spent a year in Ireland absorbing the culture, tracing the legends, and delighting in the music of the language.

Yet all of his accomplishments are surpassed by his over-whelming love of his fellowman. He knew how to be a friend. He touched thousands of lives in a positive way. He was real. He cared. He gave of himself. He was the mighty tree on which hundreds of saplings leaned. We are all better people because we knew Eddie Boland. He stood for the best men can be. He dreamed then worked to fulfill the dream.

He had an instinctive feel for pain. He knew who needed him and he was always there. He visited the sick and dying, he assuaged the wounded pride. In countless ways he cheered us up, found our best, and overlooked our faults. He took care of us. In those terrible, dark moments when everything closes in he would say, "Now we have to be indomitable!"

We are all selfish. To have a friend like Eddie enriches us, and we want it to last forever. We were blessed to have him, and now it is time to be indomitable.

From the Eulogy delivered by Dr. Frank Taylor, November 12, 1985
